

Bangj - NetCannery

Bang J, yea they use this open source canner
To extract information from any device
They tag it right
To store configuration advice
You're in charge of all the settings a'cross the network
And sure you get blamed for anomalies
Well, they're hard to see
Show me the logs, please

Extract the configurations yet?
A NetCannery graph will take the work out of your net

Bang J "can" collect the snapshots you'll care about
And arrange them like your very own parade
While the tagger plays
The database gets stocked up for days
NetCannery grabs that information
And shows potential anomalies
That were hard to see
Now, it's a breeze
